

BIRTHDAY WISHES

First, I want a knitted cap
to wear upon my head,
and pair with it a matching scarf,
make sure they're colored red.
Next, I'd like a bicycle
with a silver bell to ring,
and don't forget a microphone,
'cause I really like to sing.
And purchasing a TV set
is wise for you to do,
it'll go with my new video games—
you've bought them, I'm sure, too.
A few more gifts are on my list,
they're listed small to big,
yet, I assure, I deserve them all,
I'm no birthday-present pig!
So, next I want a Shetland pony,
either grey or brown will do,
then buy for me an chimpanzee
and a banana he can chew.
Make sure I get a bigger house,
I need an elephant as well!
Then wrap my gifts with bow and string,
and then, "Happy Birthday!" yell.
So there you have it, my wish list,
I've done my part for you;
Well, go on now, go buy my stuff,
it's the least that you could do!
